With thanks to

judetheatrecompany CIC
bringing together performance & psychology

Set up in 2008 by Artistic Director Ian Mackay, Jude Theatre Company CIC is dedicated to benefiting the community, providing creative activities for all and inspiring others. Examples of this can be seen our project work such as Re-act and continuing group work with Jude's Young Drama Group for example.

Thanks to funding from 'Give It Sum', Jude's Young Drama Group has been taking part in a confidence project with the aim of supporting each other to perform a solo with great success.

Congratulations to the group for walking away with a 1st price for their performance at this year's Newcastle under Lyme Festival of music, speech and drama.

Also excitingly, 2011-2012s Re-act Project with  Stoke on Trent College has been re-commissioned for this year. We will continue to use Role-Play and Social Theatre techniques to support our participants exploring alternative identities and life choices.

The Performers

Our Applied theatre group aim to engage you in a thought provoking piece which challenges what we think we know!?!
